School Birdwatch

Children at Carleton Green are helping their local wildlife by taking part in the RSPB's Big Schools' Birdwatch.

The Birdwatch involves children watching and counting the birds that visit their school grounds or outdoor space, before submitting their results to the RSPB. The Birdwatch - which takes place during the first half of the Spring term - is a chance for children to participate in a UK-wide citizen science project.

With over a million school children taking part since its launch in 2002, the RSPB Big Schools Birdwatch has become a much loved annual event, that helps give the RSPB a valuable snapshot of how our school birds are doing in the UK. With birds now facing so many challenges due to the nature and climate emergency, every count matters.

Thank you for your continued support both within and beyond school.
